Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 26 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain and showers spreading southwards, occasionally turning heavy in north.

Today:
Showery rain feeding south and east from the Highlands and Islands, reaching the Central Belt by mid-day. Some heavier outbreaks across northern areas of Highlands and Northeast, but only scattered showers reaching south of the Central Belt for the afternoon.

Tonight:
A showery evening and night. Outbreaks relatively isolated from the Central Belt southwards, but frequent and heavy at times in the north. Winds turning northerly, occasionally strong in far west.

Tuesday:
Rather cloudy and showery. Fresh northeast winds focusing the bulk of the showers across the north and east, where they turn heavy at times. Best of limited brightness in southwest.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
North to northeast flow continuing to feed showers across the country, again with the bulk of outbreaks focused across eastern and northern areas. Southwest seeing the best of the shelter.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.